WTO AT PRIME SOURCE FORUM IN MARCH

17 JAN, 2007

For Immediate Release

Stuart Harbinson, one of Pascal Lamy's senior advisors at the World Trade Organisation's headquarters in Geneva will make a Special Presentation at the "Trade Matters" session at the next edition of Prime Source Forum in Hong Kong.

Harbinson joins a distinguished line up of speakers, panelists and moderators (see www.primesourceforum.com) who will lead the discussions attended by some 500 executives from apparel related companies from all over the world.

The meeting kicks off on 29th March with a Keynote address by Liz Claiborne's Paul Charron who will set the scene for two days of discussions as competing and cooperating organisation alike exchange views with their peers on the way ahead as the industry copes with newly imposed protectionist measures and takes advantage of Free Trade agreements and other incentives designed to encourage free trade.
